SATURDAY, Oct. 24-6 P. M. The gold market has developed increased weak-ness to-day, and it declined from 135 a 135 % at the mess to-day, and it declined from 135 a 135% at the opening to 134%, and the closing transactions prior to the adjournment of the board at three o'clock were at 134%, following which sales were made as low as 134%, but the latest quotation on the street was 134% a 134%. The volume of speculative business was very large, and the gross clearings amounted to $147,537,000, the gold balances to $2,718,936 and the currency balances to $4.574,716. The supply of cash gold was more abundant than yesterday, and loans were made at 1-8, 1-16, 3-32, 5-64, 3-64, 1-32 and 7-64 per cent per diem for borrowing as well as "flat," and at 1-32, cent per annum for carrying. The gross earnings nted to $147,537,000, the gold balances to $2,718,936 and the currency balances to $4,574,716. The Treasury sold $300,000 in com, the bids for which aggregated $1,200,000 at prices rang-ing from 134 to 134 85-100, and this is the last sale of the amount of three millions for which bids were publicly invited. The shipits of specie within the week aggregated only $29,724, and the Sub-Treasury disbursed $8,844 dur-ing the day in payment of interest on the public debt. The stringency in the money market continued bated during the forenoon, and loans were made in many instances at seven per cent in coin an seven per cent in currency, with a commission of an eighth per cent added—an ingenious way of defeat-ing the usury laws. In the afternoon, however, there was somewhat diminished pressure, as on previous days, and balances were offered near the close at the legal rate; but it was reported on good authority that two millions and a half more in currency had been withdrawn from the banks to-day, and that an aggrava-tion of the prevailing stringency will, in conience, be experienced next week. The statement of the associated banks for the week was less afavorable than was generally expected, but it must be remembered that it was made on a declining average. The legal tenders show a decrease of 1,915,423, the deposits of $2,827,739, the loans of $1,065,002 and the circulation of $19,980, while in the specie there is an increase of $366,963. excitement all day in consequence of the further decline in Erie. The stock was pressed for sale at the opening in large amounts, and sales were made as low as 139%, from which point there was a rally to 143, but the improvement was not sustained and gradual decline to 140 succeeded, following which again there was a rally to 141% and a subsequent relapse to 139% at the close, large amounts of stock eing offered at this price. The fact of many of the certificates of Eric stock affoat being of recent transfer has given rise to surmises which by no means tend to reassure stockholders, and heavy sales are said to have been made er telegraphic advices on English account. The general railway list began to give way late in the afernoon, and the whole market sympathized with done previously, while the dealings in the latter stock partook of the character of a panic; and, to show the sentiment of the street with regard to it. we may mention that bets were offered freely that it would sell at 35 on Monday. The aspect of affairs in the railway share market has seldom appeared more critical than it is at present, and the banks and money lenders generally express more than usual anxiety for neir own safety in lending on stocks, owing to the extremely high prices now current, which would render a panic more than ordinarily disastrous. Erie money lenders, owing to its supposed worthlessness in the present financial condition of the company, nd hence those who are carrying it on margins find great difficulty in holding it. It has been suggested by some of the that it should be entirely thrown out of the dealings at the board; but as this proceeding would leave it simost without a market value and thereby involve have been carrying it to sell out their other stocks to some extent as well as this, and hence the entire market is weakened, and this feature is likely to become still more conspicuous.

The proposed amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the Stock Exchange and open board were discussed on Friday in the regular board, when, it is that hereafter the initiation charge for new members that hereafter the initiation charge for new members shall be $10,000, and that all present members be invested with a property value in their seats, subject to voluntary sale and transfer (by consent of the Executive Committee of the Board) in the lifetime of the member, for his own benefit, or at his death by his administrators for the beneat of his family—his creditors being first satis-fied. The seat is also to be held subject to sale, after twelve months, for the payment of the debts of defaulting members—that is, a year is given to such members to settle up the claims against them and to completed the seat is sold to the best advantage and the proceeds applied pro rata to the creditors.

we have nothing new to report in the condition of the government market. The dulness of yesterday continues to-day, and parties are still holding off, waiting for indications of a change. Business at the board has been exceedingly light, the attention of the street being centred on the stock market, which is the scene of great excitement.

The bond market opened quietly and with light business, dropped off $\frac{1}{2}$ a $\frac{1}{2}$ and remained dull until the noon call, when a demand springing up the market recovered to early quotations. The demand being supplied the market again became dull.

Money has been active for the greater part of the day, the rate being plump 7, but towards the close we hear of large amounts offered and refused.

The larger purchases of governments are made quietly, buyers being disposed to secure stock at present prices and not disturb the market by making a demand in open market. At the close we notice an increased demand for bonds, especially 67's, and the entire list closes steady at quotations.

The foreign exchange market was firm but inactive, and at the close bankers' bills on London at fortnight since, and if some slight concession is made it is due more to the idea of stimulating the demand than to any lack of confidence in the stability of prices. Brown and bleached muslins show no important change since our last review, the inquiry for the home market for these goods being restricted to small orders for immediate consumption. The export of brown shirtings and drills is, however, on the increase, and this fact has imparted more firmness to quotations, as the present movement will soon reduce the supplies to the requirements of our own trade. In prints we note already an irregularity of rates, some few brands selling beneath the cost of production; but this is chiefly owing to trifling deficiencies in style or coloring, and for really first class work there is a tendency to higher quotations. In other stapie cotions prices are somewhat easier, in sympathy with the raw material, with the exception of favorite brands, which are sold close to production, or that generally command steady rates on account of their popularity with the trade.

A Chicago journal of Wednesday thus refers to the growing monetary stringency in that city:—

There is a very active and at some of the banks a pressing demand for money, such as has not been experienced before for many months. The dry goods merchants are largely represented among the applicants, and in general they complain that they are unable to collect from their country debtors with prompitude. They generally assign as a reason for this state of things that "the farmers are holding their grain in hopes of higher prices," and that the check which the whole crop movement has thereby received is due to the uncontortable fix into which monetary affairs are evidently getting. This, however, does not wholly or satisfactorily account for the present state of things. The heavy receipts of flour, wheat and other produce show that a sufficiently large amount must have been paid out to have made money comparatively easy. Very little of the large amount of currency sent to the country this fall has found its way back to any of the financial centres yet, notwithstanding which money is reported very tight in the country, and many of the country banks are applying for accommodations here. A Chicago journal of Wednesday thus refers to

'55.n. 1103c, 11 A ROMANCE OF THE FAR WEST.—Some twenty years ago a wealthy gentieman from New Fork city years ago a wealthy gentieman from New Fork city arrived in St, Joseph, and after a short sojourn left for the West. He was about sixty years of age, an Englishman by brib, who had come to that city when young, fired with indomitable energy and industry, but with scenty means. After years of hard abor he gained a very large fortinge in the mercantile and stock business. While in St, Joseph he became acquainted with a young girl of about seventeen years, of French descent, then employed as a watter in one of the principal hotels. She was penniless and possessed of but an ordinary education. She was the owner, however, of an exceedingly handsome face, and was girled with great musical talent. The gentieman, on departing for the West, left with her a sing sum of money, to be devoted to the cultivation of her taste for music and her general education, the merchant passed two years in the West, mainly in Montana, and returned to St. Joseph several weeks ago. He found the young girl in Platte Town, officiating as chambermaid in a boarding house. Being without a helpinate and possessed of ample means to support a wife he proposed to the young lady, was accepted, and the two left for St. Louis, and are now is the city enjoying their boney-incom.—St. Louis Desputch, Oct 19,

A larger proportion than during the prelyous week of improved city property was brought under the hammer, there beling one especially large piece sold on Thursday, viz.:—The premises at the corner of Broadway and Exchange Place, formerly known as the public stores, all of which was eagerly taken up. Brooklyn and New Jersey, both improved and unimproved, real estate likewise sold well. The inquiry for every description of real property in and near New York is still maintained and the market is firm and buoyant, with every[prospect of continued activity. #### BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

CRIME.-Three hundred and twenty-nine persons vere arrested in Brooklyn for various offences during the past week, which is a decrease of thirty-five from the number reported the week previous. BADLY CRUSHED.—An old man named William Fowls was badly crushed on Friday evening by a barrel of molasses rolling over him at No. 999 Ful-ton avenue. He was attempting to put it in the ceilar at the time of the accident.

CATHOLIC LADIES' FAIR .- The fair being held by the Catholic ladies of Brooklyn at Sawyer's Assembly Rooms, near the City Hall, has been well attended throughout each evening of the week. The sweet music discoursed by Father O'Relily's band is only one of many attractions offered to visitors. The fair will close on Wednesday evening next. AN ALLEGED BURGLAR.-James Briordy was taken before Justice Delmar yesterday to answer a charge of burglary preferred by Edward Hayden and Samuel Nelson. The prisoner, as alleged, entered a private residence at the corner of Court and Luqueer streets, and stole about twelve dollars' worth of articles belonging to the complainants. He was committed to jail to await trial.

INJURED AND LOCKED UP .- A man named Thomas ay, thirty-two years of age, a native of England. while laboring under the inducince of induct, was cu-deavoring to cross the railroad track on Myrile ave-nue last night, when he felt, and the wheels of a car grazing the fieshy part of his left leg cut it severely. He was taken by an officer of the Forty-first precinct to the station house and locked up for the night. Assaulting an Officer.—Officer McIntire, of the Forty-eighth precinct, attempted to arrest a young derly manner on one of the Greenwood cars on Fri-day night. Moran turned upon the officer and attempted to stab him with a steel paper cutter, but he was disarmed by officer McNamara and finally lodged in the station house, where he was locked up to answer. THE INERRIATES' HOME.—There was a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kings County Inebriate Home held in the office of the District Attorney, County Court House, last evening. The subject under discussion was the propriety of petitioning the State Legislature for permission to sell the present site occupied by the Home on Fourth avenue, which can be disposed of at $10,000 more than was paid for it. With this profit it is proposed to purchase a plot of ground on Willoughby avenue, or in some other suitable locality, and to erect a building that will accommodate 350 patients. The present institution will not accommodate more than sixty persons, and is consequently totally inadequate for the exigencies of the times in meeting the wants of this unfortunate class of the community. It was decided to petition the Legislature on the subject. trict Attorney, County Court House, last evening.

RROOKLYN NAVY VAPA

There has been nothing of any general interest to the public worthy of special note at the Navy Yard within the past few weeks. Work is progressing quietly and economically, the latter appearing to b the chief desideratum with "the powers that be" in all the various bureaus of construction, repairs and supplies at this paval station. There is a small force of carpenters and machinists employed in repairing the hull and machinery of the steam frigate Colo-

That good old steam transport, the Newbern, which performed such excellent and actions service in the capacity of supply ship for the south blockading squadron during the late war, was inken on the dry dock at the yard about two weeks ago, and after having undergone a pretty thorough overhanding from stem to stern was deated of. She is now lying alongside the Roanoke, at the wharf, and is being fitted out as an army transport, being destined for service on the Rounoke, at the wharf, and is being fitted out as an army transport, being destined for service on the Pacific const, to ply between Panama and Alaska. The Newbern will sall for her station in November.

The sailing sloop-of-war Saratoga, Capitan Upshaw, one of the school ship fleet, took the place of the Newbern on the dry dock last week, and had some needed repairs done to her keel and bottom, which were completed on Friday, and she was floated off. She is now lying in the stream off the Navy Yard.

The school ship Portsmouth, of the same class as the saratoga, went on the dry dock yesterday morning and will have her bottom partially recoppered and some other repairs made on her. The Portsmouth will then take her portion of naval apprentices on board and will sail on a regular cruise, Capitain Faxhail has been ordered to the command of this ship.

In accordance with the retrenchment policy of the government in reducing the status of the may to a peace basis, shipments for the apprentice branch of the youths as desired their discharge have been granted the same. Parties desirous of enlisting their some other minors as apprentices can obtain further information on this subject on application at the Naval Rendezvous, to Capitain Ryan, No. 22 Moit street.

There are at present about 000 seamen and boys on board the receiving ship Vermont, Capitain Kimberty, this number consisting for the most part of the crews of the Portsmouth and Saratoga. All seamen, ordinary seamen and landamen who had less than two years to serve were resently discharged on board the receiving ship.

the supply ship Guard, has been ordered to duty in the Executive Department of the yard at this station. The diagship of the Mediterranean squadron, the Frankin, Admiral Farragut, is expected to arrive here about the 15th November, and the steam sloop-of-war Canandaigus, of the same fleet, about the latter part of next month.

The sloop-of-war Shamokin will probably arrive home from Rio Janeiro in the course of two or three weeks hence. She has been absent two years.

There will be a trial of the machinery of the new four smokestack sloop-of-war Nashomuly (of the same class as the Wampanoug and the Madawaska) at the dock in the yard on Monday (to-morrow).

A special court martial will convene at the Brook-lyn Navy Yard on Thursday next, the 29th inst., for the purpose of entertaining and examining certain charges against official delinquents, but what the nature of these offences consists in, or who the individuals are, has not yet transpired. It is not yet, indeed, known what officers will compose this board of examination.

Commander E. A. K. Benham, who has been absent from his usual post at the yard, travelling in quest of health, has recently returned to duty, fully recuperated.

The news of the violent death with which Lieutenant Commander Mitchell, captain of the steam sloop-of-war Swatara, met at San Francisco was received with much sorrow and regret by his brother officers on this station, who knew him and esteemed him for his many excellent qualities. Mitchell was a brave man and was considered as one of the best mathematicians in the service. He was to have returned to New York within a few days at the time he met his sad end.

The Contocook, flag ship of the Atlantic squadron, Rear Admiral H. K. Hoff, sailed for Hampton Roads yesterday, from whence she will proceed to the West Indies and wherever else the Admiral may deem advisable in his voyage of inspection of the squadron under his command.

The morning roster of the force employed at the Brooklyn Navy Yard yesterday snowed the total number to be

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Maryland vs. Atlantic.
The Champions of the South pluckily determined thing were possible, and so agreed, provided the reather would permit, to play the Atlantics and Mutuals yesterday. Shortly after nine o'clock yes-terday morning their game with the Atlantics was commenced, and it was very speedily made evident that the Southerners were in good trim and humor for play, and that the champions would have their hands full. The visitors are young, lithe-looking men, and, it must be said of them, that their general appearance and deportment on the field are second to no club in the country. They are capital fielders, good runthe country. They are capital fielders, good runners and batters and generally well up in the points of the game. In the first two innings with the Atlantics they batted Zettlein in lively style, so that the Atlantics were obliged to put Chapman in to pitch slow balls and prevent the Marylanders from hitting. Of the playing on the occasion that of Goldsmith, Mincher, Armstead and Worthington is worthy of especial mention. The Champions were minus the services of Crane, and Start, suffering from injuries to his hands, was obliged to go into the field, while Chapman took first base. There was not much muffing done, however, and but for the Atlantics' lucky star they might have suffered a defeat, as the following score will show:— Players. F. L. O.R. Players. F. L. O.R. Payers. Maryland vs. Matual.

After the tough fight with the champions in the morning the young Bastimoreans felt quite elated, although pretty well tired out. They entered into the contest with the Mutuals in the afternoon with their "spirits willing but their flesh weak," and as spirits alone cannot win a game of base ball they were, of course, defeated. The Mutuals are lately playing very steadily and batting handsomely, and being all fresh yesterday found but little difficulty in disposing of their young adversaries. Under the disposing of their young adversaries. Under the circumstances of the case it would be manifestly unjust to criticize the playing of the Marylanders. Their outfielding was very brisk and several very pretty catches were made. The Mutuals generally played and batted well. R. Hunt made his first appearance in the inter after his long and severe liness, and his buoyant action and cheerful playing were greeted with much appreciation by the crowd present. The score of the game is as follows:—

at the Union grounds. The nines which have volunteered to play are as follows:-New York-Flahly, Mills and Swandell, of the Mutual; Walker, W. C. Kelley and H. C. Kelley, of the Active; Wright, Austin and Pabor, of the Union. Brooklyn—Mills, Ferguson and Zettlem, of the Atlantic; Worth, Jewell and Rogers, of the Star; Patierson, Eggler and Martin, of the Eckford. With such contestants the game should be one worthy of being seen, and this, taken in connection with the fact that the testimonial is to a hall player who has won the good will of every body with whom he became acquainted, should crowd the Union grounds to the utmost capacity.

The Atlantic-Athletic matter has been settled. The two clubs have agreed through their representatives to engage in a new series. The first game to be played at the Union grounds on Thursday next, the return game at Philadelphis on the sth proximo; and should a third game be necessary the place of playing to be deeded by a toss of a cent.

Jewett is still suffering from the sprain which he received in the Mutual-Oriental game and may not be able to take part in the match to-morrow.

The New Engiand base ballist, Mr. M. Rogers, is out with a burst of honest indignation on the strength of the report that the Mutual-Atlantic game was postponed last Monday because there was not money enough laken in at the gate to make the game prolitable. If that were the real reason for which the game was postponed Mr. Rogers' indignation as quite commendable. Such, however, is not the case. The Mutuals received word in the morning that the directors of the Atlantic Club had conceded the propriety of postponing the game because of the condition of the ground after the recent bad weather, and that one of the directors of the Atlantic Club would wait upon the Mutuals and settle about the matter. Seven or eight of the Mutual nine were assembled at the rendezvous awaiting the arrival of the expected director and did not go over to the grounds and, therefore, could not have known whether it would be profitable to play the game. Mr. Rogers intimates that the recent victories of the Mutuals over the Atlantic game, which shows for itself that there was no "throwing the game" indiged in. He then gives short accounts of the Atlantic and Union games, which clearly demonstrated the fact that they were lost and won solely on their merits, Look well before you leap, Mr. Rogers, and spare your "feelinks."

It is universally hoped that the rules of the game will be so amended as to draw a tine between professionals and almateurs, as in cricket.

ESSEX COUNTY COURT—HEAVY SENTENCES.—Judge Depue and Associate Judges Teese, Gulid, Ise and Williams were busily engaged nearly all day yester-day sentencing some fifty or more prisoners that had been convicted of various crimes at the last Court of Oyer and Terminer. Eleven of these were sent to State Prison for periods varying from six months to ten years. For the latter term Louis Frey, a German burglar, was sentenced for grand larceny and breaking. Probably the most remarkable convict on the calendar was Frank McCormick. This individual bears the reputation of having been the means of killing outright three men. On each occasion he was arrested, but being the possessor of some little money, accumulated during the war, and, as is broadly stated, and an influential politician, Frank always managed to evade the law. On this last occasion he was found guilty of having committed an atrocious assault on a man named John J. Hines, whom he stabbed repeatedly during the course of a drunken quarrel. He got three years in the State Prison. It is worthy of note that the man Hines was himself sentenced in the same court to three months in the county jail for assault and battery committed subsequent to his recovery from McCormick's attack. The latter is a burly-looking, bull-neaded fellow, with an expression facial that is anything but inviting or prepossessing. months to ten years. For the latter term Louis
